Their names will then be placed into two hats, one for kids who are weight limit eligible to carry the ball and one hat for those that are not weight limit eligible to carry the ball. (This allows both teams to gain a variety of kids) The names are then chosen out randomly from one hat until that hat is completely empty then the other hat is drafted. The blind draft system has been eliminated in the Farmington and Durango areas. Farmington and Durango will adhere to middle school district when possible based on registration numbers of said districts. The Executive Board reserves the right to move players based on registrations per team.
2. A COACH FROM EACH TEAM THAT IS DRAFTING MUST BE PRESENT PRIOR TO THE DRAFT TAKING PLACE. AREA REPS AND EXECUTIVE BOARD MEMBERS ARE NOT ALLOWED TO DRAFT FOR A TEAM COACH.
3. Parity Rule: Applies to coaches (at least 50% of the previous coaching staff) that are moving up through the league with the same group of kids. They will be allowed to petition for Parity to the Executive Board to determine if the teams are fair and equal. If not then the Draft or Gentleman's agreement will be applied.
4. All teams may protect FIVE (5) players from the draft. Head coaches and Assistant coaches will use their sons for protected players, up to five (5) players. If all protected slots are not used on coach's child, additional players must give an area representative a signed "Letter of Intent" paper from the player. The release must state the name of player and the team for which he will be playing. Additionally, the paper must be signed by the player, a parent or guardian of the player, and the coach of the team. All signatures must be accompanied by date of signature. This release paper must be turned in prior to the draft to be valid. a. In the event that a player has signed release papers for more than one team, the first release signature shall be regarded as valid and nullifies any subsequent release papers.
5. If any player entering a division for the first time already has an older sibling in the League, this player may be assigned to the same team as his sibling if the family so desires. This declaration must be made prior to the draft. If a sibling chooses to enter the draft, he will be placed on the team which chooses him in the draft.
6. If two or more brothers are entering a division together for the first time, they may be grouped as one selection in the draft so that they will play on the same team if the family so desires. This declaration must be made prior to the draft. If the siblings choose to enter the draft independently, they may be placed on separate teams In the event that a draft selection containing multiple players in the late rounds of the draft puts a team over the player limit, the previous pick(s) (those prior to the multiple child draw) will be put back into the draft for placement on different teams. If a coach wants to protect siblings then each sibling is considered an individual protected player.
7. Returning players to the same league will be placed on the team they played on the previous year.
8. All players must play in the district in which they attend school, i.e., a player living in Bloomfield but attending school in Aztec must play on an Aztec team. a. A child who is home schooled must play in the district in which he lives.

13. Draft position shall be determined by team standing in the League from the previous year. A new team shall be considered as having the worst record. The lowest team shall get the first draft position; the second lowest team shall get the second draft position, etc.
14. The total number of players for each team shall be identified. This includes returning players, coach's sons and children choosing to play on the same team as an older sibling.
15. Beginning with the first round, the teams shall equalize as to the number of players as follows:
 - a. The team or teams with the fewest numbers of players shall draw first, i.e., if team A has 14 players, team B has 12 players, and team C has 15 players, and this is the established draft order, teams A and C pass in rounds 1 and 2, and only team B draws players in these rounds. In round 3, teams A and B draw players and team C passes. In round 4 and all subsequent rounds, all teams will draw players in the assigned order.
 - b. Late registrations shall be assigned to the teams in the order of their draft positions beginning with the team which would have had the next selection in the draft.
 - c. A player who is remaining in a division for his second year may choose to reenter the draft. This declaration must be made prior to the draft. This player will then be assigned to the team which draws his name from the hat.

Coaches must be consistent with this rule and apply it fairly to each member of his team.
 - f. Late registration will extend through the first two (2) weeks of the season. Through the first two weeks, a team must accept late registration if less than 25 players exist on the team. From Monday through Friday of the week in which games begin, a player may be registered on a team if the coach chooses to allow this player to register.
